

ANNUAL REPORT FY2016

Food for OTHERS

FIGHTING HUNGER AND FOOD INSECURITY LOCALLY FOR 21 YEARS.

A Community With A Big Heart

The following pages reveal yet another very successful year for Food for Others, a direct result of time, talents and treasure contributed by the FFO Community – volunteers, donors, FFO staff, community partners and agencies. My most sincere appreciation to each member of the FFO Community for all that each of you does in and through Food for Others.

As you know, Food for Others is an important part of Northern Virginia's safety net for those needing food when an emergency strikes, and for the growing number of working poor who are unable to make ends meet and need to supplement their inadequate food supplies. Research shows that the food budget is one of the first things pared down when times get tough for a family. Under these conditions, these households can become food insecure – that is, they struggle to acquire enough affordable, nutritious food to healthily feed the whole family. The contributions of the FFO Community will continue to play a pivotal role in Northern Virginia as we move into the next phase of Food for Others.

- 1 As many of you already know, we have new professional leadership, as Annie Turner, a former FFO Board Chair, has assumed the position of FFO's Executive Director upon the retirement of Roxanne Rice. I look with pride at the years of leadership that Roxanne provided to FFO. And I look forward with excitement to the accomplishments to which Annie will lead the organization. In her first weeks on the job, Annie has led the launch of a major initiative, our new Choice Program. The Choice Program affords our clients the option to personally select various food items that they wish to take home. Those who do not opt for Choice, will continue to be provided with a pre-determined compliment of food items. Client, volunteer and staff reaction to the launch of Choice are very positive.

Now, in our twenty-second year of operation, we continue to combat hunger and food insecurity in our Community. We are proud of our 4-star, top rating from Charity Navigator. Thank you for sustaining Food for Others in the past, and thank you in advance for your support as we move forward to continue to help those in our Community who are experiencing difficult times in their lives. Together, we will continue to meet these challenges.

Most sincerely,

Edward Weiss

Activities and Services

Despite the affluent reputation of Northern Virginia, hundreds of thousands live in poverty and need help every day. Food for Others began facing this challenge in 1995 when we began feeding the hungry from our Merrifield, Virginia, location. Whether they've lost a job, suffered a mental or physical health setback, or are struggling to overcome other obstacles to independence, Food for Others helps our neighbors gain renewed strength. Our mission is to distribute free food to neighbors in need, in partnership with our Northern Virginia community, and provide opportunities for people to volunteer their resources.

Food for Others operates four core services:

Warehouse-Emergency Food

Emergency food is provided to individuals and families referred by social service organizations to the Food for Others' warehouse in Merrifield, Virginia. These clients are provided with several days worth of food thus buying time for other sources of assistance to be arranged or for the crisis to pass. Clients meeting the income eligibility guidelines may return monthly for U.S. Department of Agriculture commodities (The Emergency Food Assistance Program) at the warehouse. The warehouse is open for these programs Monday through Friday, 9:30am until 5:00pm.

Neighborhood Sites

Neighborhood Site distributions occur weeknights at 16 sites in low-income neighborhoods across Fairfax County (11 sites), Falls Church (2 sites), and Arlington County (3 sites). Volunteers pick up food at the warehouse and then distribute it at these designated locations. Northern Virginians in need of free food line up and are served after answering the only question asked: "How many people are in your family?" These various sites are currently serviced a total of 28 times each week at 6:00 or 6:30pm.

Food For Others clients are very grateful for the food they receive.

Community Partners

Approximately 17 local Northern Virginia community-based organizations come to Food for Others on a monthly basis. These groups pick up food at the warehouse, and in turn, offer it to the elderly, home-bound, homeless, school children, teens, and other client populations at risk of hunger.

Power Pack Program (P3)

Lastly, Food for Others provides weekend food to children through our Power Pack Program (P3). Too many children in our area have little or close to nothing to eat between their lunch at school on Friday and the breakfast that is served Monday morning. Distributed on Friday afternoons, P3 provides elementary school-aged children with a pack of food to alleviate the child's hunger over the weekend and allow them to focus more on their school work.

In FY2016, Food for Others:

- Distributed 21,719 emergency food packages from our warehouse to neighbors in need totaling more than 1.4 million pounds
- Distributed 27,839 food bags at the Neighborhood Sites (408,503 pounds)
- Distributed 186,173 pounds of food to Community Partners for their use in low-income neighborhoods
- Distributed 62,000 Power Packs to 1,980 grade schoolers in the last school year
- Delivered 189,603 pounds of food to students at 28 Fairfax County elementary schools for weekend consumption

Our clients are families, single people, the elderly, the young, the homeless, the employed, and unemployed; they are Caucasian, Asian, African American, and Hispanic, among others. The one thing they have in common is their need for help and we provide that in the form of free food that enables them to best utilize their resources.

Our Clients Have Big Hearts

Our emergency food clients in 2016 left many notes of thanks; here are just a few:

“You have helped us by being friendly and kind and covered us when we were short on food. I was laid off and hit hard times, I’m grateful to be able to find a program that offers assistance in the time of need. The staff is friendly and they respect you. As soon as I find employment I will give back.”

“Food for Others continues to provide monthly food to help feed myself and my children. I have taken on other kids beside my own and the additional help is truly appreciated.”

“Thank you so much for your support. It’s just my daughter and me and I have used up all my savings. At 58 years old it is so hard to find another job but as soon as I have one I will volunteer for you.”

“This past month, a mother came in tears to the school social worker because she had no money for shoes for her children, for food and for medicine which her husband urgently needed. Having the P3 program and additional emergency food from Food for Others has given them enough supplemental food so that they had some income to spare for the medicines the father needed.”

Financial Report

Management Discussion and Analysis

This Food for Others Management Discussion and Analysis provides an overview of FFO's financial activities for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2016. Since this information is designed to focus on the current year's activities and resulting changes as compared to June 30, 2015, it should be read in conjunction with FFO's Financial Statements presented on the subsequent pages.

Financial Highlights: 2016 was a busy year for FFO. We continue to grow the Power Pack Program (P3) and in FY16, distributed 10,284 more packs than we did in FY15. Meanwhile FFO remained committed to serving the community through warehouse and neighborhood site distributions.

	Jun 16	Jun 15	Change
Number of Schools Served - P3	28	27	1
Pounds Distributed - P3	189,603	152,003	37,600
Total Pounds Distributed	2,213,876	2,165,613	48,263
Total Pounds Received	2,165,762	2,344,723	-176,961

To offset the decrease in pounds received, FFO utilized their food inventory balance and spent $195,616 on food purchases for the year ending June 30, 2016. Overall, FFO's food inventory decreased by $86,048 from June 30, 2015 to June 30, 2016. This gap in food distributed as compared to food received largely contributed to FFO having a net deficit for the year of $55,210. Typically, FFO aims to operate at break-even, but the FFO Board made the deliberate decision to operate in a deficit for FY2016 in order to meet the demand of the community.

Statement of Financial Position Analysis: Even with the additional spending on food purchases, FFO still maintains a healthy cash and investment balance with approximately 19 months of operating expenses in reserves. As of year-end, total assets exceed total liabilities by $2,094,370 despite the drop in food donations, which decreased by 176,961 pounds as compared to FY2015.

Statement of Activity Analysis: FFO experienced a decrease in total revenue of $330,028 in FY2016 as compared to the prior year. Primary factors were a decrease in the amount of food donated to FFO and the valuation of the donated food based on Feeding America, which decreased the valuation for a pound of food from $1.72 to $1.67. This decrease in valuation attributed to a decrease in revenue of $108,288. However, with this decrease in valuation, the pounds distributed in FY2016 resulted in savings of $110,694, which makes up the majority of the $131,915 decrease in expenses as compared to FY2015.

Volunteers

In FY2016 volunteers gave more than 27,727 hours of their time—the equivalent of 13 full-time staff members. We appreciate all of our volunteers, too numerous to list, who help with picking up daily food donations, client intake, daily food distribution, and much more. Volunteers listed here gave 100 hours or more in FY2016 (July 1, 2015-June 30, 2016).
